

Training focus: Intercultural Awareness and Communication

Idea in Brief:

This training is for people whose work or life centers around communication with people from different cultures and countries. It is tailored to discuss the most frequent challenges in intercultural communication and teaches cultural awareness, preparation, how to break cultural barriers and styles of communication.

The goals of the training are achieved through a variety of activities such as role play with real-life scenarios, group exercises and seminars. Our training is based on experiential learning, made applicable to everyday situations.

Participants will be able to:

- identify their own communication style and the influence it has on the communication process,
- understand cultural complexity and the importance of customs in cultures,
- prepare for talks and negotiation with people from different cultures and countries,
- identify their own cultural identity and be aware of the others' identities,
- understand the subtle but key differences in language used for communication.

We will...

- help you improve your communication and negotiation skills in intercultural and international setting.
- teach you how to be aware of own and others' beliefs and values and how to use it in your benefit.
- make you able to communicate effectively in various cultural settings.
- provide you with tools to manage a diverse, multicultural and international group effectively as a leader or be a valuable member of it.

How we offer this training:

Workshop (½ day to 1 day)	Intensive (2 to 3 days)	Module (1-3 weeks)	Course (4+ week training, year or multi-year fellowship)
------------------------------	----------------------------	-----------------------	---